

Children with bank accounts are 4 times more likely to graduate from college than those that don't have bank accounts.